The Marching Song of Sherman's Army. The following is the latest army soug which Sherman's veterans are chanting on their victorious march:

unp fires shore bright on the mountains That fro n d on the river below.

While we stood by our guns in the morning Aud cag riy watched lor the fee.

Whon a river came out from the darkness.

That hims over mountain and tree.

And shout d. Boss, us and be read.

For Sherman will march for the sea.

Then cheer upon cheer for bold Sherman Went up from each valley and glen, And the bagies re-echoed the music. The teame from the figs of the men. For we knew that the stars in our banner. More bright in their splindor would be, and that blessings from Nor hiland would greed us, when Sherman marched down to the sea. Then forward, loys, f rward to battle, Still onward we presed, till our bannets Swept out from Al'anti-i gyim wales, Anti he blood of she put tot dampened. The sol where the tustion lag talls. But we pansed not to weep tor the fallen, Who slopt by each river and tree, Yet we takened them a we eath o the laurel, As Sherman unrehed down to the sen.

GENERAL PALMER'S SPEECE

Colored People of Louisville.

GENERAL PALMER said: I have been in vited this evening to address the colored people of Louisville, and have consented, with the hope that I might benefit them in doing so. I suppose that the reason I have been invited to address you is, that I bear an official relation to the people of the State of Kentneky, and not because it is supposed that any advice or instruction that I could give you in my own personal capacity would be of service to you.

The presence of so large a number of the colored people of the city of Louisville here to-night, satisfies me that they feel that the ubject to be discussed is one that interests the n. They cannot be blind to the great fact that this war, and the political changes consequent upon the war, are calculated to affect not only the white people of this country, but to affect themselves in a very important and interesting sense.

A little over four years ago, meu of all parties in this country in their eagerness to avoid bloodshed and strife, were pledging themselves to the perpetual slavery of your In the North, and over the South, po litical parties were agreed in their assnrances that no possible result of elections could induce them to interfere for the free dom of the black man. Under that pledge Mr. Lincoln was elected to the Presidency of the United States. the United States. The people of the the ownership of slaves, blindly and fool shly refused and disregarded that pledge Notwithstanding the assurances of all the men of the North who voted for Abraham Lincoln, that he would raise no hand for the deliverance of the black man from bondage in the States where slavery was al-ready established, the people of the South resolved to make war upon him and upon resolved to make war upon him and upon the Government represented by him. Infinite wisdom has, however, overruled the counsels of the men who were pledged to the perpetuation of slavery, controlled the great events of the times, and you are here to-night so affected by the great political changes that many of you are free men and women. About two years ago Mr. Lincoln issued his Proclamation of Emanination. The whole country was startled. cipation. The whole country was startled at what was supposed to be his radical pol-icy. Soon after colored men were received into the army as soldiers. Many supposed that they would not make good soldiers, and the great problem was what, what should be done with the colored men, made free by the Proclamation of January 1, 1863. Events rapidly transpired affecting your condition after you were admitted into the army as soldiers. Your people fought in the battles of the country, and by fighting well established the fact that black men could and would fight as well as white [Applause.] On many bloody fields in this war you have bravely demonstrated the fact that there is beneath the skin of a colored man fit attributes of manhood.

On the 3d day of March, 1865, Congress declared that the wives and children of col-

men who are soldiers, and who recognize the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to them in the language of truth and sincerity. I came here to do that thing—I came to say that the American nation of more than 30,000,000 of people now recognize the manhood of the colored eoldier, inviting him to take upon himself the responsibility of that position and of all that grows out of his position in the ranks. In other times country, who have faced the men who seek to overthrow our free government, have not yet reached the highest duties of manhood. Because the consequence of your position in the army has made your wives and children free, [cheers] and that devolves upon you the highest duty of manhood—the duty of providing for those whom you 1) the week-payable to the Carrier- 25c.

On the 3d day of March when the shackles were stricken from the arms of your wives and your children, the obligation of pro-viding for them, of educating them, of rearing them up for usefulness, was taken away from the master and thrown upon you [cries of ''good, good,'' and cheers.] Wheu you irst went as soldiers into the army, fugitives, perhaps, from masters who branded you as slaves, and fearing them far more than the probable foe you would enconnier, you left your wives and children to the care of a master and you expected that master to furnish them food and clothing, but when the Government declared your wives and children free, the Government at the same time relieved the muster from the responsibility of providing for them. To-day our wives and daughters have no mistress and your sons have no masters ["goo good."] You're the natural and only protectors of your own families, and the mas-ter is discharged from the obligation of their wants, while you colored soldiers are under the same obligations to provide for the wants of your free wife and children, that other men are and you have no right to disregard them, and the man who has had his wife and children given to him is less than a man, if feeling the responsibility of the

The Government furnishes you a musket it is own purposes. It furnishes you clothing for your purposes and pays you that you may contribute for the support of your wices and of your children, and you are bound to do so [voices, that's so.] Any colored man just now fresh from stavery, just restored to freedom, just placed in pos-session of his wife and children that will wife and children given to him by a beneficient Government, ought to have the blue torn from his back, [appleuse.] I have this one thing to say to you. Under the faws of the country you receive your pay at stated intervals. The Government furnishes you with clothing, better than you have ever worn in your lives, [cheers,] for more noble and beautiful, and more comfortable than you have ever had in your lives. The pay given you is so much more than adequate to your wants, that the women and children out to have almost every dollar of it, [cries, "that's so."] That is not all. Just now your condition is one that interests

Those much abused people at the North called Abolitionists, who have borne so much for your sake, (and they are now the very men who stand by the Government, which is called an Abolition Government,) after having struggled and given you libergation to provide for yourselves that every other man, woman and child in the coun-try is. Now what is your duty? What will ou do with the children who have been aken from their masters and given to you? Will you leave them neglected: leave them to grow up in idleness and vice? No! you must educate them. [Cries, "good, good!"] No people in the world can be made free against their own consent. The Government may change your masters; that is to say, it may declare that Mr. A., who owned you last month shall not own you to day, but if your children grow up in vice and ignorance they will find a master themselves, for the ignorant and idle are in a greater or less de ree the slaves of those vho are intelligent, energetic and industri all virtue. We were created by a Being in-tinitely wise in all his dispositions, and one of the wisest bestowals is that of the famigether virtuously and rear their children virtuously. Without that, virtue, public or private, is impossible. You people then, you men and women, remember that your highest earthly mission is to rear your children up in the way of virtue and industry. The great lesson to be learned by you is to The great lessou to be learned by you is to appreciate these blessings as they deserve, and your duty is to perform your part in this new relation thrown upon you by the laws, and every step you take in rearing up your children. laws, and every step yon take in rearing up your children virtuonsly and properly, is a long step in the right direction; and if you fail in this, then the blessing of liberty is thrown away upon yon, because liberty is like a great many other good gifts, in hands that know how to employ it, it is a boon beyond description; but in the hands of those who fail to appreciate it, it is more frequently a curse than a blessing.

Let me repeat again what I have before said, the Government has made the colored

Let me repeat again what I have before soldier free. You will probably say that it was his right to be free, that according to the credit. They are the result of movements entirely above and beyond our controt; and these changes make it entirely proper that men who are soldiers, and who recognize the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to them in the language of truth and one of say the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier free. You will probably say that it was his right to be free, that according to the laws of God he was free. We deal with things as we find them. He was not free to be fore. He is free now. [Cheers.] That gives the government a strong claim unon the second of the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man, shall speak to the colored soldier as a man as the colored sold heard by the angels upon the plains of Bethlehem, will stand out in history as the most remarkable document ever chroni-

most remarkable document ever chronicled. The angels sang at the birth of our Savior, "Peace on earth and good will to men." Abraham Lincoln's proclamation will spread joy throughout the whole of this country, and we can thank God for that. [Applause.] The moment that proclamation went forth triumphantly all over this land it summoned up all the energies of the black man. No man should give such up. cled. The angels sang at the birth of our of that position and of all that grows out of his position in the ranks. In other times and under other circumstances, the freedom of three or four millions of people, would be regarded as no trifling event in history.

The moment that proclamation where of events and you are called upon to adapt yourselves to this new order of things. To the soldier first I wish to address myself. Every man who has put upon himself the responsibility of that the decrease of the door of the soldier first I wish to address myself. Every man who has put upon himself the responsibility of the door of that the position and good will to men." Abraham Lincoln's preclamation to the Government and the good people who have been struggling in your cause that you show, by your conduct, that you show, by your conduct, that you show, by your cause that you show, by your casen for addressing you at all was to draw your attention to this. fact. Has it ever occurred to you, colored men, that, in swervibg, unfaltering devotion as the black man. No man should give such unsumed an immense responsibility. you, and it asks in return that you will assist to fight its battles, and that those of you who do not fight will labor for the spreading of intelligence and virtue among your race. You could always work for your masters, but now you must work with renewed diligence for yourselves. A lazy, idte, worthless colored man now ought to be kicked by every boot in this andieuce. [Great laughter and npplause.] Any one wto fails to be temperate, energetle and industrions is more the enemy of the blackman than was the slave trader who brought your ancestors across the Atlaptic.

thousand women and children in the State of Kentucky. They will leave their masters and mistresses almost as maked as they were when born. They have no property—not one cent. It will be the example of a race of twenty or thirty thousand people who have been at work all their lives, entering upou a new state of existence without a slugle dollar with which to begin life. You see, too, that these helpless women and children may not be able to provide for themselves. Now, what have you colored man than was the slave trader who brought your ancestors across the Atlantic.

your ancestors across the Atlantic.

Auother thing, you owe to yourselves:
union—union of purpose and union of effort.
[A voice: "hear, hear."] Do not allow any side question to come in and disturb your high resolves. You men who are worth your prejudices, your religious associations, and excite religious differences; but remember there is one rule of morality higher than all others, and that is, that you small struggle for the spread of freedom and instringgle for the spread of freedom and intelligence among your own race. You are strangers in a strange land, excluded from the institutions of the country, from the paths of other people. If you halt or quarrel about of trifles, "you are simply jeopardizing the blessings given to you. Stand together. [Cheers.] Remember that the first claims upon you are the claims of your own race just delivered from captivity and bondage. If you differ in opinion, let and bondage. If you differ in opinion, let each man yield something to the other. Remember the great object of your strug Remember the great object of your struggle is only partially accomplished. That is one lesson for you men to learn. Another thing, there is in the city of Louisville a spirit of popular prejudice against you. There are those who think that any effort upon your part to make yourselves deceni ought to be resisted. [voices, "hat's so."] Just as long as colored man will get drunk around the corner grocery and work for his whisky, he is a good fellow, [laughter] but the moment he struggles to earn a good dinner, or c othes for his wife and children, he is a "t-t-oth purpose." Jeloute of laughters. he is a "stuck up nigger," [shonts of langher.] Well, that prejudice you will find everywhere. Now to meet that I have already advised unity, and I now advise in addition to that, firmness. What do I mean by firmness? That you shall resist these popular prejudices? No, if by resistance is meant any attempt at disregarding the laws of the country. I will tell you how to resist. If men pursue you with prejudices, you are to be more industrious than your neighbors, more moral than your neigh-bors, more thoughtful, more temperate, and in all respects, distinguish yourself as an earnest, patient man and a good citizen. You can leave the result in the hands of Providence; and obnoxious laws and popular prejudices will all give way the very moment your resistance in the manner have indicated demands it.

A man may, on the street, treat you very badly; and you will find that to be true, for I have learned in the course of my lifetime that men's prejudices on this subject are in previse proportion to their ignorance. I never found an intelligent, well-educated gentleman, but was perfectly willing that a colored man should have all that he carned —a fair day's wages for a fair day's work. If he buy a pair of pantaloons or a coat, he is perfectly willing that he should wear them; and the only men I have ever found

That is all you can do: and thut is enough. I find this to be true: that there are a great many men in Illinois and Kentncky who feel that this great problem of changing the relations of the colored and white races is very serious. Some regard these movements as the workings of Providence, and look on trustful and hopeful, anticipating with some satisfaction the time when all your people will be placed lu a condition to earn their bread with their own labor, to give to their wives and children.

Others feel that father Abraham has in others feel that lather Abraham has in some degree made a great blunder, and re-gard it as a great am grievous pill that the negro shall be free. [Lond cheering.] Quietly and caluily go on and work on your own redemption. It does not follow man who serves. These are the natural relations. No man can black all the boots in the world, hence there must be a great many men to black hoots. No man can shave all the faces in the world, hence man can build a great many houses in the world, hence there must be a great many earnenters. In the very order of things the hard to bring about a good battle, for we should not have a soldier to fight. It we not have issued the Emancipation Prochunation, for I believe that the Almighty had had in calling Moses from Egypt. It does not follow, therefore, that these relations which you bear to society are necessarily in-It will ever be so as ong as the world lasts, that men shall work; and the man who has uo money shall work for the man who has money, and the only change in your condi-tion is this: that you have always been working for those who have money with-crack of the whip to control hlm in one di-rection or another [cheers.] Now I believe I have said all that I have to say. I feel that this is the first time in the history of this country when a General representing the Government has call d together colored people to address them; and the reason do it is because I want you to under tand that the policy of this measure of the Administration, is in your hand. A great many men say that negroes—"niggers" you know, are not fit for freedom. Well, a out a single dollar with which to begin life. You see, too, that these helpless women and children may not be able to provide for themselves. Now, what have you colored men to do? [A voice—"Take them and do the best we can."] That is manly, at all events, but you must recollect that this is entirely beyond your ability. The mot you can do is to assist in this work, and the Government will for a time assist you in Government will for a time assist you in that endeavor; but it cannot be so very long. It is not for your interest that you be long dependent upon the Government. You must solve the problem. Here, for example, there will be in the city of Louisville many hundreds of those people, and I believe that all of you who are free have as much as you can do to take care of your own wives and children. You have got then to devise some plan by which they may earn heir own bread, and the lamily retation be preserved. There is still another class. The inw does not free all the colored people of Kentucky. There are some people—able-bodied men—iu Louisville who have wives and children yet slaves and they are slaves themselves. I want to know if there is a colored man in Louisville who is a slave that means to hang around Louisville and black boots and remain until he dies a slave, when he may take up arms and enter the service of the Government? Is, there the service of the Government? Is there an able-lodied colored man in Louisville, with wife and children, who means to hang around Louisville to unake moncy and spend it instead of being at liberty? If there is such a man in Louisville, I say again, he ought to have in boot on every street corner. [Cries of "that's so."] The Government tenders him this boon; this alorious privilege of manhood striking the glorious privilege of munhood, striking the shackles from the rists of his wife and children. If he is not equal to it he is unworthy the name of man. These are the plain truths I wanted to tell you to-night. I wanted to see in the first place how a house full of colored people looked [laughter] to see if on were really awake to the demand of the hour; to see if there was in your eyes glimmerings of manhood. I have seen colored men fight and, by the way, I ought to tell you that not only has the Government made colored men North free, but Jeff Davis in the hour of his extremity has kindly consented to make his colored men irce, [laughter] and the rebels who began this war for slavery, are summoning these same darkies to fight the battles of the rebellion, so that Jeff Davis is just as much of an abolitionist as is Abe Lincoln, [cheers] and these good rebels in Louisville and the State of Kentucky, who cannot bear the sight of an abolitionist who are to-day advocating the policy of putting arms into the hands of these colored meu down South. It proves the truth of the old saying that on this continent is struck down. the hour has come when this dark spot upon our country is to be wiped out. [Ap-decent style than over before. There is very that accumulation of hard names, wauton assertious and ribaldry, in which the Journal delighted in former years: such as marked the thirty-three so-called jokes upon Sterling Price's diarrhea, or the charge against John Harney of teaching uegro school at Saml Creek, Indiana, or denounced and brutality, lies in the simple fact that it has since then advocated a pure, noble and perhaps the best course to be pursued, for many of them would have thrown the paper aside, and thus have become inaccessible to any further salutary influence, had it at once commenced to assail slavery, for what really is, the sum of all villaiuies,

But it seems that some one man is still allowed to scribble for the Journal, who is stifl befogged with that spirit of rlbaldry and brutality, begot of the whisky still and slave pen, which pervaded the Journal in former years. Once in a while I find the discordant chirpings from some such indiidual, marring the even touc of the Jour nal's editorials; but I have not since its happy conversion in November last seen as strong an instance as its article to-day ou Calvin Fairbank.

This man was held for twelve years in the Kentucky poniteutiary for the so-called crime of slave stealing. His term of imprisonment was fifteen, but by streuuous efforts of a few 'radicals' in this city, his purdon was obtained a few months ago. He states that he received during his confinement no less than 55,000 lashes, besides other maltreatment from the underlings of tne penitentary.
The man who writes the blackguard articles for the Journal tries to pooh p.oh this away: The fellow, he says, did not get "a stripe too much." Our penitentiary keepers have always been "humane, &c." He had other crimes besides "slave stealing, charged and proved on him" (which is untrap) and "the sided sayaral slaves to see trne); and "he aided several slaves to escape." All this will not do. The generation that abolishes slavery, can not and will not allow the tortures and sufferings of a man, whose only crime was, that he embarked in the cause a little too soon, to be made matter for sport and cruel taunt. John Brown's action was more illegal than Calviu Fairbank's, and his name already ives in song as the name of a hero, and John Browu's body lies a mouldering in the grave" will live as a national song for centuries after the Louisville Journal is forgotten. The generation that will be born after slavery is gone, will no more brand the name of John Brown or of Cal-vin Fairbank, if he too should be numbered, as the names of criminals, because they violate the laws of Virginia or Keu-tucky, than christendom denounces as tucky, than christendom denounces as criminals the martyrs who violated the laws of Ncro and Diveletian; no mo e than the present population of the Netherlands denounces the bold "Beggars" of Feeland, who defied the laws of Philip the Second.

There is no particular good in opening up this subject of the conflict between the statute book and the laws of justice and humanity, except for the purpose of harmon.

—and falls with its fall; and why a hould the Louisville Journal, apparently a cosincere in accelerating this fall, seek or to one of the ugliest incidents of the slave a ystem to make its defense the subject of a low, brutal effusion, wholly at variance, both in manuer and uature, to its general to ne. SAURRDAY, MARCH 25, 1865.

News of the Day.

The juuction of Sherman and Schofield is an accomplished fact. Goldsboro is certainly in our possession. Everything is encouraging us, and deepening the dismay of the rebels. The current sets strongly against Davis; and unless he improves his condition very soon it will carry him off Dress goods are declining in New York. A brave naval officer, who earned a bril-Fisher, was lost from the steamer Santiago in a storm on the 23d.

Gen. Slaughter refuses to allow our papers to circulate in Texas. It is reported from Memphls that Mobile by the legislature and declared ineligible. A new election will be held. From an item in the Richmond Whig it appears that our forces are dismantling Fort McAllister on the Ogeechee. The spy Kennedy will be hung to-day ut Fort Lafayette.

Gen. Lew. Wallace goes to Matamoras to investigate reports of alliliation between the rebels of both republics. It is said that Cortinas has not broken faith with Maximiliun.

The rebel house of representatives did not wait to vote on their protest, but ran away as soon as it was drafted. The senate voted on theirs, as before reported. Gold after call. 1523.

Gen. Palmer's Address to Colored People This excellent, wise, practical, thoughtful production will be found on our first page. It is worthy of much careful consideration by men of all shades of color in our State. It is full of earnest, capital advice to colored men which they cannot too faithfully beed and follow. Let them take it as the signal and assurance that they are hereafter to be treated, here, as elsewhere in the vast Republic of the United States, as men,

dom is no toy, no child's plaything, no mere holiday gift to be jubilant over for a mere holiday gift to be jubilant over for a brief season, and then laid aside till the next present arrives, but a solemn change of state, almost as solemn as that which that that reputation is due them. We parted with them with regret. The puts off the mortal for immortality. They must remember that freedom is only the starting point in the race to manhood; that nobody can run that race for them; they

On the other hand, if they fail, if they betheir enemies persist in imputing to them; if they prove title, vagrant, dissipated; if they prove life, Vagrant, dissipated; it they cast off all sonse of responsibility along with their bouds; if they discard all forethought, and seek merely to have a good time, to revel in the sonsation and company has been here some ten days or two weeks. Although a new regiment, we much gratified at the fine discipline pleasures of the present hour, to gratify each wayward impulse as It springs np-If, in short, they behave in either a dissolute or a childish manner, they will inevitably again fall a prey, in one form or another, to the cupidity and selfishness of the white man. And they must bear in mulud that more than ordinary vigilance, perseverance and industry are now required of them. They have their manhood to win, and they have to win it against difficulties of a peculiar and formidable character.

Unlike the transition of the white man from youth to manhood where every proper manifestation of independence, self-reliance, and the sense of personal responsibility, is sedulously fostered and encouraged by his friends and society at large, the transition of the black man in Kentucky raust go on in the face of no little determined opposition. A still powerful party in the State believe in his total and permanent unfitness for freedom, in his inability to achieve a higher moral status than that of cattle, or, at best, of children. He must therefore labor with all the more diligence and earnestness. But on the other hand he ed by the obstacles in his way. The strugcoming a man as quickly as possible, and theory and opposition will vanish at once

It is most assuredly our true interest to have antiable relations existing between our city authorities and those of the General Government. Congress, by recommending an amendment to the Constitution, indicates the policy of the nation. If we are true to ourselves and the country we should select for city officers only those who are lor the Constitutional Amendment, and then we can hope for harmony among our rulers.

From all parts of the city we have infornation that the people are discussing the Constitutional Amendment prohibiting slavery, with especial reference to the opinions of the candidates now asking office at their hands. They want to know how the candidates stand on this question, and they candidates stand on this question, and they slavery, with especial reference to the opinhave the dead carcass of a rotten institution fastened to their back. If the institution is dying then the people want to put it out of misery in the shortest possible time. At any rate they intend to get rid of lt, and all the defunct politicians of the olden time cannot save it. Its doom is decreed by the determined will of the American people, and all sensible meu will bow to the mandates of that decree. Why should the buslness men and the property holders of Louisville be anxious to extend the life of this defunct institution? What has it eyer done for them, or what does it propose to do for them The rebels are repairing Fort de Russy on in the way of promoting the permanent interests of the city? And what possible good can be accomplished by its lingering existence in our midst? These questions they are asking of each other, and they are asking Judge Grasson, just elected for the 8th circuit in Maryland, is attainted of treason gentlemen must show their hands, and those of them who are still for holding back and elinging to this great drawback on the prosperity of the city and State, must be content to stay at home and attend to their private affairs. They are not fitted for the onward movements of the present time.

[Correspondence of the Union Press.] SHELBYVILLE, Ky, March 22. On the behalf of the Union eltlzens of this town a small space in your columns is asked, to express our approbation of the truly soldierly-and, therefore, gentlemanlyconduct and deportment of the porlion of the Thirtleth Wiscousin Volunteer Infantry which has been on duty in this place. Having supplies quaintance with the citizens generally are uot as good as it was with the Wiscorsin soldiers. Time will, however, make amends for that. The officers appear to be faithful and diligent, and to appreciate their rela-tions to the soldiers, and where that is the case, we may always expect to find good and true soldiers. It is most assuredly our true interest to have anniable relations existing between our city authorities and those of the General Government. Congress, by recommending these former "chattels" exhibited—their unarshal air, their excellence in drilling, and more than all, their conscious manhood and strength. DRAFT INSURANCE.

A DRAFT INSURANCE.

In Louisville and Jefferson county there are hundreds of men liable to draft whose business relations are such that serving the Government as drafted men, or procuring substitutes at the present high rates, are alike attended with peculiar hardships.
We have, after deliberate calculation and careful examination, concluded to insure men against the draft ordered for the 15th of February (now temporily deterred), and have completed our arrangements for the purpose of furnishing and mustering into the service an acceptable substitute in every case where one of the insured is drafted. Experience has shown that persons can be insured against the perils of the and disease npon a fixed calculation of risks. Are not publicand individual interests subserved by insuring against the contingency of being It is estimated that of the nambe liable to druft a certain proportion will be drafted. Accepting this ratio as a basis, we feel justified in undertaking to insure against the incoming deaft, and shall muster in acceptable recruits in preportion to the ratio of quota to the number on enrollment list. Each man insured will be given, on payment of premium of insurance, a certificate which shall entitle him to exemption, and in the event of his being drafted, we will furnish the substitute in his name and stead and thereby procure from the Board of En-rollment his exemption papers, which me to be given him upon his returning said ceriticate of premium to us.

To those whose business relations, make it a great sacrifice to go as drafted usen, and those who, if drafted, would be unable to procure substitutes, the benefits to be derived from such insurance are plain and

You are insured against the anxiety and personal inconvenience incident to one who knows not but what his name may be drawn from the wheel. From these harassing cares and anticipation you are re-lieved, as we will fill your place with an acceptable substitute, aiready mustered in, if you are drafted. You are thus spared the pecuniary sacrifice which you must make when, after being notified that you are constituted as a second of the pay may be a second or the second of the when, after being notified that you are con-scripted, you attempt to pay an exorbitant price for a substitute, when men take ad-vantage of your individual accessity. You are then left to the prosecution of your busi-ness and the enjoyment of a home's privilege, and if poor, can you not better pay a moderate sum now than an exorbitant price for a substitute after the draft? Believing that the public have confidence in our ability to perform what we propose, and of which we will furnish the most satisfactory evidence, we shall enter upon our undertaking. This proposition cannot fail to meet the wishes of hundreds in Louisville and Jefferson county, for it insures an acceptable substitute to every drafted man who may take insurance of us.

We have facilities that few enjoy, and shall be careful not to undertake more than we can safely, and with; ut fail, thoroughly accomplish. We will insure against the draft ordered for the 15th of February, 1865, and all sup-plemental drafts to fill the quota under that call for

One Hundred Dollars! This sum strikes us as so moderate as to induce hundreds to step promptly forward, and avail themselves of the opportunity offered. Indeed, all who have not a representative in the service should secure this chance, unless they prefer going themselves if drafted.

We are now ready to meet the public, and as there are many hundred still needed to fill the quota for the city and county, we may not only solicit their prompt attention but invite their co-operation in a matter of interest to all concerned. Call at the Counting-Room of Demo-crat Office and learn rates at which a guarantee will be furnished. AMUSEMENTS.

CAPTURED .- John Hedges, charged with being a guerrilla leader, was brought to the city yesterday morning, under guard from Brandenburg. He was shot through the left breast and lung some weeks ago, by a man named Birch, and was taken by Maj. Wilson at the honse of his father-in-law, at Garnettsville, Meade County, where he was lying suffering from the offects of his wound. Hedges shot and killed the notorious guerrilla leader Duporster, it will be remembered, some time last fall. He says he shot Duporster for murdering some of his friends, and for outrages he was committing as a guerrilla. Birch was a member of Duporster's band, and shot Hedges to avenge the death of his leader. Hedges says he is a regular Confederate soldier, and deuies that he has ever been a guerrila. He was taken to post hospital.

BENEFIT OF MISS ALICE HOGAN .- The petite Alice Hogan is announced for a bentit this afternoon, at the Louisville Theater. She is a charming little actress, and a favorite with all the habitnes of that popular place of amusement, and we are confident she will have a crowded house. For one so young she passesses wonderful powers. Two very fine pieces are announced for the occasion-" Faint Heart Never Won Fair Lady," and "Matteo Falcone," in which Miss Alice will appear in the principal parts. Her little sister, Lavina, will appear as Charles II., in the first piece. The performance will be a very interesting one, and we doubt not there will be a full house. DESERTEES AND BOUNTY JUMPERS .- Recent developments have shown that many of those who have deserted from the rebel army and come into our lines formerly belonged to the Union army. They had enlisted for the purpose of securing the bounty and taking French leave at the first convenient opportunity. Being sent to the trent such apportunity did not present it-self, and sooner than fight they would leave and go over to the rebel army, where they would ro-enlist, expressing their dis-gust for the Northern cause. In turn they would desert from that army, come within our needs lines, where not being recently our picket lines, where, not being recognized, they would take the oath of allegiance e torwarded North and ready to play the same game over again, if placed in similar circumstances. There is no doubt but that this game has been extensively practiced. We have desertions from our army where men have gone over to the opposing army, and there is no reason why they should not in turn leave and come North, thus escaping service, and besides pocketing a honosome bounty. Quite a number of these rebel deserters have come into our lines in the eastern part of this State, and were afterwards identified as men who had desert ed formerly from the Union army.

ALDERMAN .-- Mr. J. M. Armstrong is a candidate for Alderman in the Seventh Ward. Mr. Armstreng introduced into the Common Council the ordinance to uniform the police, which was defeated in the Board of Aldermen, and he announces his purpose, if elected, to arge the adoption of this meas re of municipal reform as a member of the Upper Board. The ordinance proposing to uniform the police met with favor among all classes of our citizens, with the exception of the policemen, and we are glad to see that it is not considered as finally disposed of by the action of the present Board of Alderuien.

NORTH OF THE OHIO .- Mrs. Scott, with two children, of Gordon county, Ga., and Mrs. Cox, with two children, of Calhoun county, Ga., were yesterday seut one hundred miles north of the Ohio river, to remain while the war lasts. recommend Mr. Griff. He has been "one of the original Union men" in this city, even at a time when the principles entertained and advocated by him could not be publicly expressed without hasard. Of German extraction, fully conversant with the German, French and English languages, a perfect scholar and a man whose capacity and integrity are acknowledged by all who know him, he will make an efficient and competent officer if elected. We therefore take great pleasure in endorsing him.

Some time ago a man named William Brockman was arrested in this city, charged with harboring deserters and aiding soldiers to desert. He was yesterday sent out to work on the fortifications for lifteeu days, to be released after that time when he executes a bond in $1,000, as security for future good behavior.

Robert Gilchrist, one of the city policemeu, was arrested day before yesterday for disloyalty. He was sent to military prison by order of Gen Palmer. The charge upon which he was arrested, we understand, was using disloyal language. If men must talk treason, they should go where it

EDS. PRESS: The citizens of Louisville ere not only surprised, but indignant the the ordinance uniforming the police should meet with such deleat at the hands of their representatives in the Board of A dermen. We believe, gentlemen, that it is the almost annimous desire of the good people of this city that our police force should be better governed, and at the same time uniformed. It is now in the power of the citizens to have a reform so desirable carried out Then let us endorse those gentlemen of the Council who so faithfully advocated and voted for the bill, by re-electing them to office, and at the same time show a disapoffice, and at the same time show a disapproval of the action of these who opposed the measure, by withholding our support from them. This important measure, with others equally important to the general good, will be considered by the new Council. Let us then east our votes for representatives who will not regard the voice of the police but vote for measures because the police, but vote for measures because the people demand it. It is time we were done being awed and threatened by the induence of the police, and the sooner we elect members of the Beneral Council (and other officers too) who do not depend upon or look to the police for their support and approval, the sooner will we have reform.

It is rumored that Sherman may have sent a small force in that direction for the purpose of cutting the railroad communi-cation between Goldsboro and Raleigh, keeping Johnston from Goldsboro while it was being occupied by the main body of Sherman's army.

Information has been received that the occupation of Goldsboro was effected on the same day of the reported battle at Bentonville. Johnston's dispatch states that the Union troops subsequently assumed the offensive, thus admitting that his success was only temporary and unimportant.

SYMPTOMS. The Symtoms of Catarrii are at first very slight. Por sons find they have a coid, then they have frequent at tacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of lempera ture. In this condition, the ic se may be dry, or a slight discharge, this and acrid, afterward thick and adhesis

As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and beavy, and are hawked or coughed cit. The secretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voic thick and nasal; the eyes are weak; the sense of smell is lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place. Another common and important symptom of Catarrhis that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a thick or slimy muceus, which has failen from the head during the night. When this takes place the person and should I se no time in arresting it. The above are but few of the many Catarrhal symptoms. Nrite for our pamphlet describing fully all symptoms; will be sent FREE to any address.
